MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

1. Industry Structure and Developments

India demonstrated strong economic resilience during financial year 2024-25.

It was a year of elections. Three big democracies went in for elections: India, America and Indonesia. In India, the ruling party returned to office for a third term. In Indonesia, the ruling party continued with a different leader at the helm. In America, there was a change in the presidency. The world has had an early inkling of policy changes that will affect the global movement of goods and labour.

Europe faces both political and economic uncertainties. Europe's biggest economic engine, Germany, experienced economic contraction for two successive years. France has had political uncertainty due to developments in the wake of the snap elections. The United Kingdom had a change of government. In general, Europe is facing competitiveness pressures amidst much higher energy costs caused, in part, by the transition towards renewable energy.

To a large extent, these developments have affected the global economy. Despite global geopolitical instability, India continues to maintain its position as one of the fastest-growing economies globally.

China has become a manufacturing colossus in the past few years – in contrast, India faces limitations in producing critical goods at the scale and quality required to serve the infrastructure and investment needs of an aspiring economy.

On the technological front – we will require appropriate skilling and education for India's youth to take advantage of technological advances such as Artificial Intelligence, enabling its population to stay one step ahead of technological developments. Policy action on this front is already underway, with the budgets reflecting the importance of technology driven economy.

The Union Budget 2025-26 ("the Budget") has clearly portrayed the Government's continued focus on reform measures with the guiding spirit of Inclusivity in achieving the destination of Viksit Bharat. The Budget has emphasised on the following Engines of Development:

- Agriculture
- MSME
- Investment
- Exports

This is evident from the Budget's focus on development measures in supporting MSMEs and furthering Make in India – (a) Credit Cards for Micro Enterprises, (b) Loan assistance through Scheme for first time entrepreneurs ; (c) Manufacturing mission with the mandate to focus on (i) Ease and cost of doing business; (ii) Future ready workforce for in demand jobs; (iii) A vibrant and dynamic MSME sector; (iv) Availability of technology; (v) Quality products; (vi) Clean tech manufacturing for climate-friendly development; (d) various measures for labour intensive sectors; (e) Development measures focusing on Garib, Youth, Annadata and Nari – i.e. investing in people, economy and innovation. This includes developing Centre of Excellence in Artificial Intelligence for education with a total outlay of ₹500 crore; (f) various financial sector reforms; (g) Tax reforms; (d) Regulatory reforms (with focus on Light-touch regulatory framework based on principles and trust to unleash productivity and employment), etc.

The Indian economy seeks to steady and sustain the growth momentum that the economy has experienced post-Covid – however, globalization is on the retreat.

Being the fastest-growing among all major global economies coupled with fact that India has a youthful demographic profile– the upcoming years are expected to serve unique opportunity to realise 'Sabka Vikas', stimulating balanced growth of all regions.

Today, Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) play a vital role in providing banking and financial services especially in rural India as well as from Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) sector. Traditional Banks have often presented challenges for MSMEs in securing loan due to stringent eligibility criteria.

NBFC is a significant player within the country's financial landscape. NBFC growth has been driven by various factors, such as: a rising middle class, enhanced financial inclusion and positive policy interventions. It has witnessed notable transformations ever since its emergence, with segments such as housing finance, microfinance and consumer finance contributing to its expansion. The financial ecosystem for Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) is poised for transformation. Regulatory shifts, technological advancements, and evolving customer expectations are redefining how NBFCs operate and thrive.

Increasing importance is being placed on MSMEs every year – recognized as a vital engine of growth. Customised Credit Cards for micro enterprises registered on the Udyam Portal has been introduced in the Budget. Also the Government's planned revision in classification of MSMEs by enhancing the investment and turnover limits is aimed to provide more confidence to MSMEs so as to enable their further growth and generate employment for the youth.

The Government's commitment to promote financial inclusion through various initiatives has further elevated the importance of NBFCs. These initiatives position NBFCs as vital implementers in providing credit access to the unbanked and under-banked segments.

The Reserve Bank of India's (RBI's) support to growth is expected to ensure adequate liquidity in financial markets. While RBI has been bringing about changes in the regulatory norms from time to time – these changes primarily aim at bring about transparency in the functioning of NBFCs and in protecting the interest of public and consumer at large.

As regards the Real Estate sector – India's infrastructure development and real estate sector share a mutually beneficial relationship. Typically, the growth of infrastructure has a significant correlation with real estate through the creation of new locations, while driving up capital values and demand. The recent tax rationalization is expected to increase disposable income and boost consumption trends– with lower tax liabilities, more of India's young population may consider investing in real estate. Further, the Government's continued focus on reviving the affordable housing segment coupled with strong infrastructural push is expected to have a multiplier effect on the real estate sector. All these factors are contributing for a promising future for the real estate players in India.

2. Opportunities and threats

Costly funding, challenges associated with effective liquidity management, Asset Quality concerns, threats to consumer safety and privacy associated with Digital Lending Apps, intense competition within the NBFCs and banking sectors – are major challenges for the NBFC sector.

However, by aligning with regulatory expectations, embracing technology, diversifying funding and prioritizing customer-centric strategies, NBFCs can chart a path of sustainable growth and innovation.

While growth opportunities abound, NBFCs must also prepare for economic uncertainties, fluctuating interest rates and market disruptions. Building financial resilience through robust risk management frameworks, diversified portfolios is the key.

The Real Estate Sector's prospects are positively related to the rise in economic well being of the people. As infrastructure expands, the Real Estate sector promises flourishing future. However, this segment is subject to challenges associated with rising costs, ESG compliance, digital transformation and market adaptation. Adapting to new technologies is no longer optional. Companies that embrace change will stay ahead, while those that don't, risk falling behind.

3. Segment-wise or product-wise performance

Segment-wise or product wise performance data is enumerated in accordance with IND AS-108 in Note No. 33 of the "Notes to the Financial Statement" section of the Annual Report.

4. Outlook

The NBFC sector in India is poised for growth in the upcoming years.

The increasing focus on regulatory compliance is a hallmark of the financial landscape. Enhanced frameworks for risk management, capital adequacy and transparency reflect a commitment to a stable financial system. The compliances for NBFC is not a constraint – rather an enabler of long term credibility and investor confidence.

The financial services landscape is becoming increasingly customer-driven, with digital natives demanding personalised experiences and seamless interactions. For NBFCs, this requires shift from product-centric approaches to customer-centric strategies that prioritise convenience, transparency and trust.

Technology remains a pivotal driver of growth, enabling NBFCs to scale operations, enhance efficiency and improve customer experiences. In an era where data is the new currency, harnessing Artificial Intelligence (AI) and machine learning can unlock actionable insights into customer behavior, enabling tailored product offerings. Further, Digital Lending platforms and cloud based solutions are reducing operational costs and expanding reach.

Our Company is following a slow and cautious approach in identifying new customers in approving loan disbursement considering the unsecured nature of the segment.

As the Real Estate Sector continues to demonstrate resilience and adaptability – A supportive regulatory environment has enhanced transparency and institutionalization in the real estate sector. With sustained confidence of domestic and international investors widely anticipated to remain unabated, rapid urbanization, key infrastructure project completion are expected to create new growth opportunities. Furthermore, the integration of technology and sustainability will shape the future of real estate development, reinforcing the sector's role as a cornerstone of India's economic growth.

5. Risks and concerns

NBFCs stand at the threshold of a transformative era, driven by digital innovation, supportive government policies, and an increasing emphasis on sustainability. As NBFCs scale to serve India and beyond - their exposure to credit, liquidity, operational, and reputational risks has grown exponentially. Further, with increasing reliance on technology grows, cyber security and data privacy become paramount- which has subjected NBFCs to data loss risk. NBFCs must invest in robust security measures to safeguard from this loss. Your Company manages credit risks through stringent credit norms to verify the identity of an individual and also determining their intent and ability to repay a loan. Further, Interest Rate Risk and liquidity risk are managed through regular monitoring of maturity profile. Besides, operational risks in the form of risks of incurring losses due to manual errors, fraud or system failure, can be monitored through an effective internal control system management and its periodic assessment.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying Ind AS financial statements of NPR Finance Limited which comprise the Balance Sheet as at 31st March, 2025, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Cash Flow Statement and the Statement of Changes in Equity for the year then ended, and notes to the Financial Statements, including, a summary of the significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the financial statements").

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key Audit Matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report. We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the Financial Statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying Financial Statements:

Sl No.	Key Audit Matter	Auditor's Response
1	Fair Value of Unquoted Equity Investments (Other than Investments in Subsidiaries and Joint Ventures) Investment in Unquoted equity shares are measured at Fair value. The Fair value of these financial assets involved management's judgment because these securities are not traded in an active market. Since this valuation is a Level 3 type of valuation in accordance with Ind AS 113 Fair Value Measurement where one or more significant inputs to the fair value measurement is unobservable. Accordingly, this item is considered to be a Key Audit Matter due to significant judgments associated with estimating the fair value of investment.	We discussed with management the basis used in determining the fair value and evaluated the appropriateness of the valuation methodologies used by management and compared it to industry norms and the requirements in Ind AS. We confirm the adequacy of the disclosures made in the financial statements.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above, when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the Company's Annual Report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions, as applicable under the relevant laws and regulations. We have nothing to report on in this regard.

Management and Board of Director's Responsibilities of the Financial Statements

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these Ind AS financial statement that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs (financial position), profit or loss (financial performance including other comprehensive income), cash flows and changes in equity of the company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under Section 133 of the Act.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Ind AS financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements, as a whole, are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in Order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management and Board of Director's use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of financial statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE B TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT OF EVEN DATE ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF NPR Finance Limited for the year ended 31st March, 2025

Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to the aforesaid Financial Statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

(Referred to in paragraph 2(A)(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory requirements' section of our report of even date)

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements of NPR Finance Limited as of March 31, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements of the company for the year ended on that date.

In our opinion, the company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to Financial Statements and such internal financial controls are operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal control with reference to Financial Statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("The Guidance Note").

Management and Board of Director's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management and Board of Directors are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements based on the criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that are operating effectively for ensuring the Orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system with reference to Financial Statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system with reference to Financial Statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Company's internal financial control with reference to Financial Statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control with reference to Financial Statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to Financial Statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to Financial Statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

1.2 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors

The Company's management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Any revision to the accounting estimates is recognized prospectively in the current and future periods.

1.2.1 Changes in accounting policies

The Company will change an accounting policy only if the change: (a) is required by an IND AS; or (b) results in the financial statements providing reliable and more relevant information about the effects of transactions, other events or conditions on the entity's financial position, financial performance or cash flows.

1.3 Events after the Reporting Period

The Company will adjust the amounts recognised in its financial statements to reflect adjusting events after the reporting period. The Company will not adjust the amounts recognised in its financial statements to reflect non-adjusting events after the reporting period. If the company declares dividends to holders of equity instruments after the reporting period, it will not recognise those dividends as a liability at the end of the reporting period. If the company receives information after the reporting period about conditions that existed at the end of the reporting period, it shall update disclosures that relate to those conditions, in the light of the new information. If non-adjusting events after the reporting period are material, non-disclosure could influence the economic decisions that users make on the basis of the financial statements. Accordingly, it will disclose the following for each material category of non-adjusting event after the reporting period:

The Company shall report separately information about an operating segment that meets any of the following quantitative thresholds: (a) its reported revenue, including sales to external customers is 10 per cent or more of the combined revenue of all operating segments. (b) The absolute amount of its reported profit or loss is 10 per cent or more of the greater, in absolute amount, of (i) the combined reported profit of all operating segments that did not report a loss and (ii) the combined reported loss of all operating segments that reported a loss. (c) Its assets are 10 per cent or more of the combined assets of all operating segments. The statement of cash flows is reported during the period classified by operating, investing and financing activities. Cash flows from operating activities are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit or loss is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments, and items of income or expense associated with investing or financing cash flows. Major classes of gross cash receipts and gross cash payments arising from investing and financing activities are reported separately. Cash flows arising from interest paid and interest and dividends received is classified as cash flows arising from operating activities.

Dividends paid are classified as cash flows from financing activities. Cash flows arising from taxes on income is separately disclosed and is classified as cash flows from operating activities unless they can be specifically identified with financing and investing activities.

1.7 Measurement of Fair Values.

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

Disclosure is given for assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring or non-recurring basis in the balance sheet after initial recognition, the valuation techniques and inputs used to develop those measurements and for recurring fair value measurements using significant unobservable inputs, the effect of the measurements on profit or loss or other comprehensive income for the period.

1.8 Inventories

Inventories shall be measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of inventories shall comprise all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

The cost of inventories shall be assigned by using the first-in, first-out (FIFO). Same cost formula for all inventories having a similar nature and use to the entity has been used.

When inventories are sold, the carrying amount of those inventories is recognised as an expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognised. The amount of any write-down of inventories to net realisable value and all losses of inventories is recognised as an expense in the period the write-down or loss occurs. The amount of any reversal of any write-down of inventories, arising from an increase in net realisable value, is recognised as a reduction in the amount of inventories recognised as an expense in the period in which the reversal occurs.

1.9 Revenue Recognition

Revenue will be recognised when the parties to the contract have approved the contract (in writing, orally or in accordance with other customary business practices) and are committed to perform their respective obligations; each party's rights regarding the goods or services to be transferred is identified; payment terms for the goods or services to be transferred is identified; the contract has commercial substance; and it is probable that the company will collect the consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for the goods or services that will be transferred to the customer. In evaluating whether collectability of an amount of consideration is probable, company shall consider only the customer's ability and intention to pay that amount of consideration when it is due. The amount of consideration to which company will be entitled may be less than the price stated in the contract if the consideration is variable because the company may offer the customer a price concession.

The company shall recognise revenue when it satisfies a performance obligation by transferring a promised good or service (i.e. an asset) to a customer. An asset is transferred when the customer obtains control of that asset.

When a performance obligation is satisfied, company shall recognise as revenue the amount of the transaction price that is allocated to that performance obligation.

The company shall consider the terms of the contract and its customary business practices to determine the transaction price. The transaction price is the amount of consideration to which company expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring promised goods or services to a customer. The consideration promised in a contract with a customer may include fixed amounts, variable amounts, or both.

Effective interest method: Interest revenue shall be calculated by using the effective interest method. This shall be calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset except for: (a) purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets: For those financial assets, the company shall apply the credit-adjusted effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from initial recognition. (b) financial assets that are not purchased or originated credit-impaired financial assets but subsequently have become credit-impaired financial assets. For those financial assets, the company shall apply the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset in subsequent reporting periods.

A gain or loss on a financial asset or financial liability that is measured at fair value shall be recognised in profit or loss.

Dividends are recognised in profit or loss only when; (a) the company's right to receive payment of the dividend is established; (b) it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the company; and (c) The amount of the dividend can be measured reliably.

1.10 Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE)

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment shall be recognised as an asset if, and only if: (a) it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the company; and (b) the cost of the item can be measured reliably. Under the recognition principle, an entity recognises in the carrying amount of an item of property, plant and equipment the cost of replacing part of such an item when that cost is incurred if the recognition criteria are met.

An item of property, plant and equipment that qualifies for recognition as an asset shall be measured at its cost. The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises: (a) its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates; (b) any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. After recognition as an asset, an item of property, plant and equipment shall be carried at its cost less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Each part of an item of property, plant and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item shall be depreciated separately. The depreciation charge for each period shall be recognised in profit or loss unless it is included in the carrying amount of another asset. The depreciable amount of an asset shall be allocated on a systematic basis over its useful life. The residual value and the useful life of an asset shall be reviewed at least at each financial year-end and, if expectations differ from previous estimates, the change(s) shall be accounted for as a change in an accounting estimate in accordance with IND AS 8, Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors. The depreciation method used reflects the pattern in which the asset's future economic benefits are expected to be consumed by the entity. The depreciation method applied to an asset is reviewed at least at each financial year-end and, if there has been a significant change in the expected pattern of consumption of the future economic benefits embodied in the asset, the method is changed to reflect the changed pattern. Such a change shall be accounted for as a change in an accounting estimate in accordance with IND AS 8.

The carrying amount of an item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised: (a) on disposal; or (b) when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. The gain or losses arising from derecognition of an item of property, plant and equipment shall be included in profit or loss when the item is derecognised.

Depreciation is recognised to write off the cost of assets less their residual values over their useful lives, using the Straight Line method.

Estimated useful lives of the assets, are in accordance with that which is prescribed in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 which is as under :-

Class of assets	Useful Life
Office Premises	30 Years
Plant & Machinery	22 Years
Furniture & Fittings	10 Years
Vehicle (Motor Cycle)	10 Years
Vehicle (Car)	8 Years
Office Equipments	5 Years
Computers	3 Years

Depreciation is provided on straight line value method by adopting useful life of 30 years in the case of Building (other than Building) other than RCC Frame structure as prescribed under schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 after retaining 5% of Original cost as residual value for Buildings.

1.11 Investment Property

Investment property shall be recognised as an asset when and only when: (a) it is probable that the future economic benefits that are associated with the investment property will flow to the company; and (b) the cost of the investment property can be measured reliably. An investment property shall be measured initially at its cost.

Transaction costs shall be included in the initial measurement. The cost of a purchased investment property comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable expenditure. After initial recognition, an entity shall measure all of its investment properties in accordance with IND AS 16's requirements for cost model, other than those that meet the criteria to be classified as held for sale (or are included in a disposal group that is classified as held for sale) in accordance with IND AS 105, Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations. Investment properties that meet the criteria to be classified as held for sale (or are included in a disposal group that is classified as held for sale) shall be measured in accordance with IND AS 105. An investment property shall be derecognised (eliminated from the balance sheet) on disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from its disposal. Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of investment property shall be determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and shall be recognised in profit or loss in the period of the retirement or disposal.

The fair value of investment property is being determined by property valuer, having recognised qualifications and experience. However if the Investment property is disposed off during the reporting period, the Sale Price not being less than valuation as per Registry office on which stamp duty is being calculated and paid off as per the Registered Sales deed is treated as fair value.

1.12 Impairment of Assets

Company shall assess at the end of each reporting period whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the company shall estimate the recoverable amount of the asset. If, and only if, the recoverable amount of an asset is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset shall be reduced to its recoverable amount. That reduction is an impairment loss. After the recognition of an impairment loss, the depreciation (amortisation) charge for the asset is adjusted in future periods to allocate the asset's revised carrying amount, less its residual value (if any), on a systematic basis over its remaining useful life.

1.13 Financial Instrument

Recognition and derecognition

The Company recognises a financial asset or a financial liability in its balance sheet when, and only when, it becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. A regular way purchase or sale of financial assets shall be recognised and derecognised, as applicable, using trade date accounting or settlement date accounting.

The company will derecognise a financial asset when and only when: (a) the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire, or (b) it transfers the financial asset as set out below and the transfer qualifies for derecognition.

- (i) An entity transfers a financial asset if, and only if, it either: (a) transfers the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, or (b) retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients in an arrangement that meets the conditions.
- (ii) When the company retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of a financial asset (the 'original asset'), but assumes a contractual obligation to pay those cash flows to one or more entities (the 'eventual recipients'), the company treats the transaction as a transfer of a financial asset if, and only if, all of the conditions are met like: (a) The entity has no obligation to pay amounts to the eventual recipients unless it collects equivalent amounts from the original asset. Short-term advances by the company with the right of full recovery of the amount lent plus accrued interest at market rates do not violate this condition. (b) The company is prohibited by the terms of the transfer contract from selling or pledging the original asset other than as security to the eventual recipients for the obligation to pay them cash flows. (c) The company has an obligation to remit any cash flows it collects on behalf of the eventual recipients without material delay. In addition, the entity is not entitled to reinvest such cash flows, except for investments in cash or cash equivalents during the short settlement period from the collection date to the date of required remittance to the eventual recipients, and interest earned on such investments is passed to the eventual recipients.
- (iii) Whenever the company transfers a financial asset it evaluates the extent to which it retains the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset. In this case: (a) if the company transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the company derecognises the financial asset and recognise separately as assets or liabilities any rights and obligations created or retained in the transfer. (b) If the company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, it will continue to recognise the financial asset. (c) If the company neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the company determines whether it has retained control of the financial asset.
In this case: (i) If the company has not retained control, it shall derecognise the financial asset and recognise separately as assets or liabilities any rights and obligations created or retained in the transfer. (ii) If the company has retained control, it shall continue to recognise the financial asset to the extent of its continuing involvement in the financial asset.

Transfers that qualify for derecognition

- (i) When the company transfers a financial asset in a transfer that qualifies for derecognition in its entirety and retains the right to service the financial asset for a fee, it recognises either a servicing asset or a servicing liability for that servicing contract. If the fee to be received is not expected to compensate the company adequately for performing the servicing, a servicing liability for the servicing obligation is recognised at its fair value. If the fee to be received is expected to be more than adequate compensation for the servicing, a servicing asset shall be recognised for the servicing right at an amount determined on the basis of an allocation of the carrying amount of the larger financial asset as stated in (iv) below.
- (ii) If, as a result of a transfer, a financial asset is derecognised in its entirety but the transfer results in the entity obtaining a new financial asset or assuming a new financial liability, or a servicing liability, the company recognises the new financial asset, financial liability or servicing liability at fair value.
- (iii) On derecognition of a financial asset in its entirety, the difference between: (a) the carrying amount (measured at the date of derecognition) and (b) the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) is recognised in profit or loss.
- (iv) If the transferred asset is part of a larger financial asset (e.g. when the company transfers interest cash flows that are part of a debt instrument, and the part transferred qualifies for derecognition in its entirety, the previous carrying amount of the larger financial asset shall be allocated between the part that continues to be recognised and the part that is derecognised, on the basis of the relative fair values of those parts on the date of the transfer. For this purpose, a retained servicing asset shall be treated as a part that continues to be recognised. The difference between: (a) the carrying amount (measured at the date of derecognition) allocated to the part derecognised and (b) the consideration received for the part derecognised (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) shall be recognised in profit or loss.

Transfers that do not qualify for derecognition

If a transfer does not result in derecognition because the entity has retained substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the transferred asset, the entity shall continue to recognise the transferred asset in its entirety and shall recognise a financial liability for the consideration received. In subsequent periods, the entity shall recognise any income on the transferred asset and any expense incurred on the financial liability.

Continuing involvement in transferred assets

When the company neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred asset, and retains control of the transferred asset, the company continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of its continuing involvement.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

An entity shall remove a financial liability (or a part of a financial liability) from its balance sheet when, and only when, it is extinguished—i.e. when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged or cancelled or expires.

Classification of financial assets

The Company will classify financial assets as subsequently measured at amortised cost, fair value through other comprehensive income or fair value through profit or loss on the basis of both: (a) the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and (b) the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset.

A financial asset shall be measured at amortised cost if both of the following conditions are met: (a) the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and (b) the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Classification of financial liabilities

An entity shall classify all financial liabilities as subsequently measured at amortised cost.

1.14 Non-Performing Assets & Write-off Policy

Company has followed Reserve Bank of India Guidelines in respect of NPA provisioning applicable for Non-Systematically Important-Non Deposit Taking Non-Banking Financial Company. Apart from NPA Provision, Company has made additional Provision for impairment of Financial instruments as required under Indian Accounting standard IND-AS 36. Both the provisions taken together have been reflected in Profit & Loss Account under impairment on Financial Instrument. During the current year, all the Non-Performing assets have been written off & consequently provision made in earlier years in respect of said NPAs have been written back.

The Company's assessment of impairment loss on its loans and other assets is subject to a number of management judgments and estimates, the impacts of actions of governments and other authorities, and the responses of businesses and consumers in different industries, along with the associated impact on the global economy.

1.15 Measurement of expected credit losses

The company has measured expected credit losses of a financial instrument in a way that reflects : (a) an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined by evaluating a range of possible outcomes; (b) the time value of money; and (c) reasonable and supportable information that is available without undue cost or effort at the reporting date about past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

1.16 Investments in equity instruments

At initial recognition, the company makes an irrevocable election to present in other comprehensive income subsequent changes in the fair value of an investment in an equity instrument within the scope of this Standard that is neither held for trading nor contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combination to which IND AS103 applies. Once it makes this election, it shall recognise in profit or loss dividends from that investment.

1.17 Fair Value Hierarchy

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consists of the following three levels:

Level 1 - This level includes financial assets that are measured by reference to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 - This level includes financial assets and liabilities, measured using inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. price) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3 - This level includes financial assets and liabilities measured using inputs that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part, using a valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

1.18 Borrowing Cost

The company will capitalise borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset as part of the cost of that asset. It recognises other borrowing costs as an expense in the period in which it incurs them. To the extent that it borrows funds specifically for the purpose of obtaining a qualifying asset, it will determine the amount of borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation as the actual borrowing costs incurred on that borrowing during the period less any investment income on the temporary investment of those borrowings. To the extent that it borrows funds generally and uses them for the purpose of obtaining a qualifying asset, it will determine the amount of borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation by applying a capitalisation rate to the expenditures on that asset. The capitalisation rate shall be the weighted average of the borrowing costs applicable to the borrowings of the company that are outstanding during the period, other than borrowings made specifically for the purpose of obtaining a qualifying asset. The amount of borrowing costs that company capitalises during a period shall not exceed the amount of borrowing costs it incurred during that period. The company will begin capitalising borrowing costs as part of the cost of a qualifying asset on the commencement date. The commencement date for capitalisation is the date when it first meets all of the following conditions: (a) it incurs expenditures for the asset; (b) it incurs borrowing costs; and (c) it undertakes activities that are necessary to prepare the asset for its intended use or sale. It will suspend capitalisation of borrowing costs during extended periods in which it suspends active development of a qualifying asset. It will cease capitalising borrowing costs when substantially all the activities necessary to prepare the qualifying asset for its intended use or sale are complete.

1.19 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

A provision shall be recognised when:

- (a) The company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event;
- (b) It is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; and
- (c) A reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision shall be the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. The risks and uncertainties that inevitably surround many events and circumstances shall be taken into account in reaching the best estimate of a provision. Where the effect of the time value of money is material, the amount of a provision shall be the present value of the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. Provisions is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed.

Unless the possibility of any outflow in settlement is remote, the company will disclose for each class of contingent liability at the end of the reporting period a brief description of the nature of the contingent liability and, where practicable:

- (a) An estimate of its financial effect,
- (b) An indication of the uncertainties relating to the amount or timing of any outflow; and
- (c) The possibility of any reimbursement.

Where an inflow of economic benefits is probable, the company will disclose a brief description of the nature of the contingent assets at the end of the reporting period, and, where practicable, an estimate of their financial effect.

1.20 Earnings per Share

The company will calculate basic earnings per share amounts for profit or loss attributable to ordinary equity holders and, if presented, profit or loss from continuing operations attributable to those equity holders. Basic earnings per share shall be calculated by dividing profit or loss attributable to ordinary equity holders (the numerator) by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding (the denominator) during the period. The objective of basic earnings per share information is to provide a measure of the interests of each ordinary share in the performance of the company over the reporting period.

If the number of ordinary or potential ordinary shares outstanding increases as a result of a capitalisation, bonus issue or share split, or decreases as a result of a reverse share split, the calculation of basic and diluted earnings per share for all periods presented shall be adjusted retrospectively. If these changes occur after the reporting period but before the financial statements are approved for issue, the per share calculations for those and any prior period financial statements presented shall be based on the new number of shares. The fact that per share calculations reflect such changes in the number of shares shall be disclosed. In addition, basic and diluted earnings per share of all periods presented shall be adjusted for the effects of errors and adjustments resulting from changes in accounting policies accounted for retrospectively.

The company will present in the statement of profit and loss basic and diluted earnings per share for profit or loss from continuing operations attributable to the ordinary equity holders and for profit or loss attributable to the ordinary equity holders for the period for each class of ordinary shares that has a different right to share in profit for the period. It will present basic and diluted earnings per share with equal prominence for all periods presented. It will present basic and diluted earnings per share, even if the amounts are negative (i.e. a loss per share).

1.21 Employee Benefits

Short-term employee benefits include items such as the following, if expected to be settled wholly before twelve months after the end of the annual reporting period in which the employees render the related services: (a) wages, salaries and social security contributions; (b) paid leave; (c) bonuses; and (d) non-monetary benefits if any for current employees. When an employee has rendered service to the company during an accounting period, it recognises the undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service: (a) as a liability (accrued expense), after deducting any amount already paid. If the amount already paid exceeds the undiscounted amount of the benefits, it recognises that excess as an asset (prepaid expense) to the extent that the prepayment will lead to, for example, a reduction in future payments or a cash refund. (b) as an expense. It will recognise the expected cost of bonus payments only when:

(a) it has a present legal or constructive obligation to make such payments as a result of past events; and (b) a reliable estimate of the obligation can be made.

A present obligation exists when, and only when, the entity has no realistic alternative but to make the payments.

Post-employment benefits include items such as the following: (a) retirement benefits (lump sum payments on retirement i.e. gratuity); and (b) other post-employment benefits, such as leave encashment, terminal benefits. Arrangements whereby company provides post-employment benefits are post-employment benefit plans. It applies this Standard to all such arrangements whether or not they involve the establishment of a separate entity to receive contributions and to pay benefits.

Post-employment benefit plans are classified as either defined contribution plans or defined benefit plans, depending on the economic substance of the plan as derived from its principal terms and conditions.

Under defined contribution plans the company's legal or constructive obligation is limited to the amount that it agrees to contribute to the fund. Thus, the amount of the post-employment benefits received by the employee is determined by the amount of contributions paid by the company (and perhaps also the employee) to a post-employment benefit plan or to an insurance company, together with investment returns arising from the contributions. In consequence, actuarial risk (that benefits will be less than expected) and investment risk (that assets invested will be insufficient to meet expected benefits) fall, in substance, on the employee. The company may pay insurance premiums to fund a postemployment benefit plan. The entity shall treat such a plan as a defined contribution plan unless the entity will have (either directly, or indirectly through the plan) a legal or constructive obligation either: (a) to pay the employee benefits directly when they fall due; or (b) to pay further amounts if the insurer does not pay all future employee benefits relating to employee service in the current and prior periods. If it retains such a legal or constructive obligation, it shall treat the plan as a defined benefit plan.

When an employee has rendered service to the company during a period, it shall recognise the contribution payable to a defined contribution plan in exchange for that service: (a) as a liability (accrued expense), after deducting any contribution already paid. If the contribution already paid exceeds the contribution due for service before the end of the reporting period, an entity shall recognise that excess as an asset (prepaid expense) to the extent that the prepayment will lead to, for example, a reduction in future payments or cash refund. (b) as an expense. When contributions to a defined contribution plan are not expected to be settled wholly before twelve months after the end of the annual reporting period in which the employees render the related service, they shall be discounted using the discount rate.

Accounting by an entity for defined benefit plans involves the following steps: (a) determining the deficit or surplus. (b) Determining the amount of the net defined benefit liability (asset). (c) Determining amounts to be recognised in profit or loss : (i) current service cost (ii) any past service cost and gain or loss on settlement (iii) net interest on the net defined benefit liability (asset). (d) Determining the re-measurements of the net defined benefit liability (asset), to be recognised in other comprehensive income, comprising: (i) actuarial gains and losses; (ii) return on plan assets, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability (asset); and (iii) any change in the effect of the asset ceiling, excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability (asset).

The company will account not only for its legal obligation under the formal terms of a defined benefit plan, but also for any constructive obligation that arises from its informal practices. Informal practices give rise to a constructive obligation where it has no realistic alternative but to pay employee benefits.

The company recognises the net defined benefit liability (asset) in the balance sheet. When the company has a surplus in a defined benefit plan, it shall measure the net defined benefit asset at the lower of: (a) the surplus in the defined benefit plan; and (b) the asset ceiling, determined using the discount rate.

The company uses the projected unit credit method to determine the present value of its defined benefit obligations and the related current service cost and, where applicable, past service cost.

1.22 Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets are the amounts of income taxes recoverable in future periods in respect of: (a) deductible temporary differences; (b) the carry forward of unused tax losses; and (c) the carry forward of unused tax credits.

Current tax for current and prior periods shall, to the extent unpaid, be recognised as a liability. If the amount already paid in respect of current and prior periods exceeds the amount due for those periods, the excess shall be recognised as an asset.

A deferred tax liability is recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except to the extent that the deferred tax liability arises from: (a) the initial recognition of goodwill; or (b) the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction which: (i) is not a business combination; and (ii) at the time of the transaction, affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit (tax loss). Temporary differences also arise when assets are revalued and no equivalent adjustment is made for tax purposes. IND AS's permits or requires certain assets to be carried at fair value or to be revalued.

The difference between the carrying amount of a revalued asset and its tax base is a temporary difference and gives rise to a deferred tax liability or asset.

A deferred tax asset shall be recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary difference can be utilised.

A deferred tax asset shall be recognised for the carry forward of unused tax losses and unused tax credits to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the unused tax losses and unused tax credits can be utilised.

Current tax liabilities (assets) for the current and prior periods is measured at the amount expected to be paid to (recovered from) the taxation authorities, using the tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities is measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. When different tax rates apply to different levels of taxable income, deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the average rates that are expected to apply to the taxable profit (tax loss) of the periods in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse.

Current and deferred tax is recognised as income or an expense and included in profit or loss for the period, except to the extent that the tax arises from a transaction or event which is recognised, in the same or a different period, outside profit or loss, either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. Current tax and deferred tax shall be recognised outside profit or loss if the tax relates to items that are recognised, in the same or a different period, outside profit or loss.

Therefore, current tax and deferred tax that relates to items that are recognised, in the same or a different period: (a) in other comprehensive income, shall be recognised in other comprehensive income (b) directly in equity, shall be recognised directly in equity.

1.23. Suit filed by the Company

During earlier years, Company had filed cases against the customers to whom loans were given. Book value of entire such Loan where cases have been filed and pending, have been written off in earlier years and the money realized against such cases is shown as income in the profit & loss account.

1.24. Critical accounting judgement and key sources of estimation uncertainties

The preparation of financial statement in conformity with IND AS requires the Company's management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities recognised in the financial statements that are not readily apparent from other sources. The judgements, estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors including estimation of effects of uncertain future events that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and the underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates (accounted in a prospective basis) and recognised in the period in which the estimates is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods of the revision affects both current and future periods.
